SHOOTING, SUICIDE AT WESTLAKE TAVERN

THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

The owner of the Stumble Inn in Colma, VICTOR TOGNOLI, has a right to cry.

For eight years, business goes along as usual. Then, out of a clear blue sky, three dirty crooks knock his place over twice in less than a month.

"If somebody can give me an idea what to do," the hapless barkeep says, "I'll do it."

When the same customers get a heist put on them twice in the same place in one month, it's bad business, Tognoli rightfully says.

The only solution he can think of is to get his bar annexed to Daly City, so that he will be eligible for some police protection.

A German shepherd that dragged a dissenting 12-year-old Brisbane boy out of the drink recently has been adopted by the Broadmoor police department. Just to make it legal the pooch was also given a name by Chief RAY SAVAGE. From now on the dog will be addressed as BULLET, if you please.

The animal, a black and white police dog, was impounded at the human society's Coyote Point shelter after it ran into the bay east of Brisbane, barking and pulling at the boy's clothes.

Having no license, the dog was kept in quarantine 10 days, but now is enjoying the hospitality of the Broadmoor police, where he expects to spend a long life as a canine cop.

Newest addition to the city's water works, where employees seem to come and go like the breezes, is BARBARA GALINDO, 244 Acton stret. Her duties there are only temporary, she says.

FRED SCHWEICKHARDT, coordinator of guidance for the Jefferson elementary school district, reports that many of the ladies of the Crocker voting precinct were in a dither last week. In our front-page story of the school bond election results somebody made a miscombobulation, with the result that we had down only 22 yes votes for that precinct, rather than 222. It was only a mistake of 2 (unless one wants to get technical and call it 200). We extend the nice people of the Crocker precinct apologies for the oversight.

When the local LIONS started their art contest project, they figured an allocation of about $50 would turn the trick. They had printed up a few hundred entry blanks and that was that.

But, as ELIO FONTANA, chairman, woefully explains, the number of contestants has gone well into four figures and . . . alas, the cost seems to have swelled an equal amount. The Lions figure they'll have to pick up a tab for about $1000. But they plan to make good on it and talk is that

Callan Says Court Here Not Illegal

Sessions Could Be Held With Board OK

Thomas J. Callan, supervisor of the first district, told THE RECORD yesterday that holding of municipal court in sessions in Daly City one day a week would not be illegal, and needed only approval of the other supervisors to go ahead.

Callan made a motion at the county board meeting Tuesday that Judge Thomas L. Bocci be allowed to appear here one day a week, but his motion was not seconded.

Not Authorized Here

Bocci has been appearing here on Fridays to take care of traffic matters, but last week was given a rap on the knuckles by Assistant District Attorney Keith Sorenson, who said the current state law governing municipal courts does not authorize traffic fines bureaus in cities other than those designated by the board of supervisors officially as the site of a court.

Callan suggested that Daly City residents write the board of supervisors asking why they will not sanction holding of court here one day a week.

He explained that although it requires an amendment to the present state municipal court law to have a traffic fines clerk here, there is nothing illegal about the judge sitting here, if the board approves.

DA Says O.K.

According to Callan, District Attorney Louis B. De Matteis is also of the opinion that Bocci can sit here at weekly intervals.

Callan said an amendment to the state law establishing separate traffic fines bureaus might take as long as six months.

"Why punish the people of the north county?" he said.

Callan said he had been contacted by many residents of Sharp

Andersen Urges Chamber To Speed Festival Plans

Suggestion to "get on the ball" in the formation of plans for the spring festival was given by Dan Andersen, city administrator, at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the chamber of commerce.

Andersen said the time was growing short and that preparations should begin immediately.

The chamber named a committee, to be headed by Marshall Saunders, to look into the matter.

Fred Martin and Thomas Laramie were named as additions to the by-laws committee, headed by Frank Blum.

During the meeting James Mason, recreation director, and Lara-

ARMED ROBBERS ONCE MORE "TAKE" THE STUMBLE INN

Crooks' Methods Are Described As Identical To Previous Robbery

For the second time in less than a month the Stumble Inn in Colma has been held up by armed robbers.

Three armed bandits, identified by patrons as the same trio that held up the bar on January 21, held up four persons and escaped with nearly $100 cash in the wee hours Monday morning.

Identical Methods

According to patrons, the robbers' methods were identical with those used on the earlier date. The earlier holdup netted the men $119.

Victims were Victor Tognoli, owner of the tavern, who was tending bar; Edward McEntee, off-duty bartender of Colma; Katherine Larcombe, a patron, of San Francisco, and Richard Grant, a patron, of 350 Crocker avenue.

Victims said the three stick-up men entered the bar at 1:15 a.m., precisely the same time as the previous robbery. All three wielded guns, one a German Luger, and the apparent "boss" of the gang wore a silk stocking over his head and face, as he had done on the previous robbery.

"This Is a Stickup"

"This is a stickup," the leader announced. He walked behind the bar and emptied the cash register. Another of the trio stood in the center of the room and the third stood by the entrance and covered for his partners.

After being ordered to drop their wallets and purses on the floor, the victims were then herded into the men's restroom, as in the earlier robbery. Chairs were piled against the door of the restroom by the bandits, who made their escape good in an automobile before the hapless patrons could force their

200 COLMA GRAVE DIGGERS THREATEN MARCH 1 STRIKE

Cemetery Workers Seek $1.50 A Day Wage Boost

Neary 200 members of the Cemetery Workers' union, local 265 (AFL), nearly all of whom work in the Colma area, have threatened to go on strike March 1 unless a new contract with the association of cemeteries is negotiated by that time.

Negotiations for a contract have been underway since December and have reached a stalemate, according to Ralph Duncan, business agent of the union.

The grave diggers seek an increase of $1.50 a day over their present wages of $14.50 a day. Duncan said that the best offer received from the employer group is a 15-cent a day wage raise.

"Unless some more favorable offer is made there will be a strike of cemetery workers March 1," Duncan said.

He explained that the union had made their case known before the San Mateo county central labor council earlier this week and received sanction to strike.

The strike would have a direct bearing on the some 420 burials a week held in Colma.

Duncan said "If there is a strike our picket lines will be at the cemeteries. I do not think that cab and hearse drivers and others connected with cemetery operations would violate our picket lines.

"Our request is based on comparable pay scales for similar work," Duncan declared. "The laborers receive a pay scale of $16.80 a day as compared to the grave diggers' $14.50. The living expenses of a grave digger are just as high as those of a laborer."

The strike would effect Holy Cross, Woodlawn, Cypress Lawn, Greenlawn, Greek, Mount Olivet, Eternal Home, Salem Home of Peace and Hills of Eternity cemeteries in this area.

The Serbian cemetery, near Mount Olivet, would be the only one not effected in event of a strike. They have a contract with the cemetery workers' union that they would meet a pay scale request comparable to prevailing scales elsewhere in the state.

WOMAN IS FOUND BURNING SHOES TO KEEP WARM

An attempt of a 52-year-old San Francisco woman to drown herself at Thornton beach Wednesday evening was thwarted by local police.

The woman, Rose Fleming, 471 Hayes street, who has been missing one week, later told police she was "mentally confused."

She was found by police about 6 a.m. burning her shoes on the beach to keep warm while she waited to build up enough courage to throw herself into the ocean.

Acting Strangely

Police received a call from an unidentified bystander at 5:34 p.m., who reported a woman was acting strangely in the Thornton beach area.

Officer Charles Munday and Sgt. Ricco Benedetti responded and found the woman huddled about a small "bonfire" she had made by setting her shoes on fire.

She explained to the police that she was waiting to get enough nerve to take her life.

The climb down the rugged beach cliffs took officers nearly half an hour and the woman was brought to the local station about 6:30 p.m.

Ofifcers said the woman gave only vague answers on questioning.

Missing A Week

Grace Lamson, lessee of the apartment house at 471 Hayes, told THE RECORD Mrs. Fleming has been missing from there a week now.

She said that the woman's daughter and son-in-law, who recently arrived from Alaska, have been over to the house daily in search of Mrs. Fleming.

Mrs. Lamson said that Mrs. Fleming has been "looking wild eyed" recently.

Previous Try

On one occasion a month ago, Mrs. Lamson said, the woman returned from a long walk, apparently to the beach, with blistered feet, and told her landlady that she had been trying to work up enough courage to jump in the ocean.

"I had a long talk with her," Mrs. Lamson said, but explained that the woman has been acting "strangely" in recent weeks.

Mrs. Flemings and her husband have been estranged for the past

Subject of the hearing will be the survey on the plant prepared by District Engineer Harry Jenks and entitled, "Report on Proposed Sewage District Project for Northern San Mateo County Sewage District."

The proposed plant will be located just off Alemany and Lake Merced boulevards in Westlake.

It will consist of two digester tanks and one clarifier tank to treat sewage from the north county area, covering Daly City, Broadmoor and Colma.

Jefferson Varsity Captures PAL Title

Jefferson high school's varsity basketball team, sparked by their three consistent high scorers, walked over Capuchino high Tuesday, 60-40, to capture the Peninsula Athletic League title in the northern division (see sports page).

Don Delbon, Larry Blanchard and Wayne Lovelace score 16, 20 and 12 points respectively to lead their teammates to the lopsided victory that marked the ninth straight for the Indians.

The Jeffs take on South San Francisco tonight at the Warrior gymnasium for their final game of the season. Outcome of the contest will have no bearing on league standings. Game time: 7:30.

Elementary District Begins Action To Apply For $910,000

Preliminary work to secure $910,000 in state aid is underway by Jefferson elementary school district.

Voters made the district eligible for a part of the $185,000,000 available when they approved bonding of the district to its maximum two weeks ago and sanctioned the district to apply for the state aid.

Fred Schweickhardt, coordinator of guidance, and Harry Aranson, the district's business manager, are completing a survey of all square footage of buildings owned by the district and are working on predicted enrollment for a three-year period in the future.

According to Schweickhart, the state's formula for alowing aid is based mainly on these two factors.

The $910,00 figure is the maximum that could be secured by the district. However, Schweickhardt said, "It is probable that we will obtain a figure pretty near the maximum."

The financial allotments are also based on need. Schweickhardt said that this district should rate priority.

He added that application will probably be made to the state before June.

Mario J. Ciampi, is presently drawing up plans for future projtects to be constructed with the state money.

THREE-DAY WEEKEND STARTS TOMORROW

Monday will be a day of rest for most of the residents of Daly City.

The city hall, banks, and the majority of the stores will be closed on that day in observance of George Washington's birthday, which falls on Sunday.

With predictions of more fair skies, the state highway patrol estimates that the coming three-day weekend will find highways crowded with motorists.

REAL ESTATE MAN SHOOTS SPOUSE, TAKES OWN LIFE

Helen Margaret Rodgers, 46, of 41 Park Plaza drive, hovered near death at Junipero Serra hospital yesterday following an attempt on her life Wednesday night at the Westlake Lounge here.

Critical Condition

Attendants at the hospital said Mrs. Rodgers was "fair" at times, and then lapsed into periods of coma. She was given blood transfusions Thursday morning to rebuild her strength, after being shot through the chest and the upper right arm. The shot fired through her chest pierced her left lung and emerged through her back.

Several patrons were sitting at one end of the bar, one of them Mrs. Rodgers, when Rodgers entered shortly after 9 p.m.

Walked To Her

Witnesses said he walked straight to the stool where she sat and stood directly behind her.

She saw him and turned around quickly. Without saying a word, he fired two shots in succession with a .38 revolver.

Rodgers then turned the weapon on himself, firing a single bullet through his chest. He was dead on arrival at Junipero Serra hospital.

Rodgers operated the Gold Seal real estate offices at 1548 Taraval in San Francisco and at 281 El Camino Real, Millbrae, where he had an apartment.

Always Carried Gun

He had been carrying a gun with him constantly the past several months, against the advice of some of his employees, who said he seemed under severe nervous strain the past few months.

Rodgers carried the gun with him because of the large sums of money he was accustomed to having on his person, they said.

Constance Hill, employee in his San Francisco office, said he "seemed distracted" by the separation from his wife, and still seemed to be "carrying a torch" for her. "He was so nervous he couldn't hang on to a pencil," she said.

An interlocutory divorce decree had just been granted Mrs. Rodgers recently by a San Francisco court.

Lived Here Two Weeks

Mrs. Rodgers had been living at the studio apartment in Westlake for the past two weeks. She was recently employed by the Paul Law real estate and insurance firm at 52 Lakeshore Plaza.

Shortly after the couple's separation more than a year ago, Mrs. Rodgers had had a breakdown and went to the east for cure.

In a conversation with the bartender, Frank Tims, Mrs. Rodgers had said that she had also been in the hospital recently, after being injured in an auto accident while living in Millbrae.

According to a patron, M. W.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD IS BURNED SERIOUSLY

A five-year-old Daly City youth suffered severe first and second degree burns Sunday when scalding water from a vaporizer tipped onto the boy as he slept.

The boy, James McDaniel, 38 East Cavour avenue, in bed with a week-long cold, was sleeping alongside the vaporizer used to combat his illness.

Apparently the boy struck out in his sleep and knocked the apparatus onto his bed, spilling boiling liquid across his chest and groin, police said.

The youngster's screams awakened his parents.

He was taken to San Mateo Community hospital for treatment.

Fire Does Estimated $5000 Damage To Home On Peoria Street

ALL THAT WAS left of interior of the W. Sharp residence, 208 Peoria, was ashes, after a blaze that started in a bedroom closet consumed the entire second floor quarters and furnishings last Thursday afternoon. Damage to the two-story five-room house was estimated at $5000. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, were shopping when the fire started. On returning home, they discovered smoke pouring from the living room, but found their two children, aged 9 and 14, safe in a neighbor's yard.

No Doctors Are Taken Here

Not a single Daly City physician, dentist or veterinarian received orders to report for armed service physical examination Tuesday in the call that summoned 108 medical personnel throughout the county.

The 108 county professional men receiving orders Tuesday will report for physical examinations preliminary to an offer of a commission in the armed forces and possible call to the service in the near future.

Draft board orders delivered Tuesday in the north county applied to 24 physicians, 19 dentists and four veterinarians, none of whom were from Daly City, according to Mrs. Virginia Anderson, secretary for Local Boards 57 and 58.

She explained that all the doctors and dentists from Daly City had either already completed their service time, or were above the age limit for active duty.

Nearly all those who received summons were under 36 years of age, and had no service in World War II, or had benefited by deferments for additional education.

The call of 108 men does not necessarily mean they will enter the service immediately, as they will be placed in a reserve pool from which they will be subject to call.

Mrs. Anderson said that if the professional men were not willing to accept the commission and reserve status their names would be put into draft induction lists.

Out of the total, 36 physicians, 19 dentists and six veterinarians were called for examination from the southern part of the county.

Local boards are also preparing for induction March 31 of 83 young men from this county to complete the March quota. Of this total, 38 will come from the north end of the county, while 45 will be called from the southern end.

Driverless Vehicle Batters Down Fence At Local Motel

WHOOPS — David Riggs, a Tacoma, Wash. resident who was staying here at the Mission Bell motel, has a lot of control on a pair of ice skates, but he didn't have anything to say about it when his automobile, of its own volition, took off pell mell for the fence at the motel Monday. Riggs, who has a speciality act in the Sonja Heinie ice revue, was away shopping when the brakes on his vehicle went out. Only damage was to the fence, but, fortunately, the car was stopped by a ditch, or would have backed itself right out across the El Camino Real.

Congressman Younger Reports On Activities In Washington, D. C.

The joint session of Congress and the President's message on the state of the Union was for me, as a new member in Congress, more of an inspirational affair than was the Inauguration. This was the first time that any such occasion has been televised, and I was surprised at the number of letters which I have received stating that they saw me among the crowd there on the floor of the House.

President Vigorous

The President seemed to be in full vigor, more relaxed than at the time of his inauguration. His message was delivered with a firmness and sincerity of a man who knows where he is going and how to get there. There was no temerity, no blaming, no excuses, no endeavor to pit class against class, but rather an outline of a program of how a great nation should conduct itself as a leader in a world struggle to maintain freedom.

The message was well received by both Democrats and Republicans, and for a newcomer, it seemed to indicate a fine degree of cooperation between the Legislative and Executive branches of the government.

At Odds

It was not long, however, until in our first legislative action, the majority party in the House seemed to be somewhat at odds with the administration. This arose over the extension of the Reorganization Act giving to the President the power to recommend reorganizations of the Executive branches of the government, as recommended by the Hoover Commission or by the new commission which is currently studying this same problem.

The Reorganization Act which was to be extended provided that the President could recommend a reorganization plan to the Congress and unless either the House or the Senate rejected the plan by a majority of the entire membership of that body within sixty days, the plan became effective and had the full power and effect of law.

Could Defeat Plan

The House Committee on Government Operations had recommended the extension of the Reorganization Act, but at the same time recommended an amendment which would provide that either house by a majority of those present could defeat the reorganization plan proposed by the President. When the bill came to the floor of the House, the Democrats on the committee argued to give President Eisenhower exactly the same power that was given to President Truman, while the Republicans on the committee argued to give the House or the Senate more power by permitting either of them to defeat a reorganization plan by a majority vote of those present.

As you know, the Congress passes its legislative acts by a majority vote of those present, and it was felt that if legislative power was to be delegated to the President, the Congress should not delegate more power to the Executive than it exercises itself, a legislative theory in which I concur. The amendment, however, was defeated and then the Reorganization Act was extended until 1955 so that President Eisenhower will have full opportunity to reorganize and revamp the Executive Branches of the Government.

Apparent Division

I may say that the Republican majority of the committee handling this bill were not supported by the Majority leadership in the House. This apparent division came about as a result of a legislative conference at the White House in which the committee understood that President Eisenhower would be satisfied with an extension of the Reorganization Act as amended. It later developed, however, that the Executive wanted the extension of the act in its present form. This action gave to us new Congressmen our first sample of a Congressional debate, but along mixed party lines. Needless to say, I voted for the extension of the reorganization power.

In both the House and the Senate we have a breakfast group which is organized under the International Council for Christian Leadership. I have joined the House group which meets every Thursday morning for breakfast. This past week both the Senate and the House groups met in a joint session at the Mayflower Hotel Ball Room as guests of Conrad Hilton, and we were joined by a number of the Cabinet officials as well as some Justices of the Supreme Court and the Vice President.

Inspirational Talk

President Eisenhower was the guest of honor and the leader of the discussion. For fifteen minutes without notes, he gave one of the most inspirational talks on prayer that I have ever been privileged to listen to. He seems to be at his best in these off-the-record discussions with small groups. We were privileged to bring our wives to this meeting, and it will remain as one of the worthwhile occasions that it has been our privilege to attend.

Prayer has had a very dominant place in this administration ever since President Eisenhower started his Inaugural address with a prayer which he had written that morning. Cabinet meetings as well as some of the departmental meetings have been opened by prayer.

Interstate Commerce

Our committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce has been listening to a number of the governmental agencies reporting of their work for the past year and listening to recommendations for new legislation. As I pointed out before, this committee has a very wide scope of legislation under it. Two of the groups which were especially interesting were the Bureau of Standards and the National Science Foundation. We will continue to hear from these agencies the balance of February and then proceed to hold public hearings on the legislation which is before the committee.

We have continued to have some visitors, but of course nothing like during the Inauguration. Donald Richard Jahn of Millbrae, who is a candidate for examination to the Naval Academy, Stanford Hannah, Lyal Ingersoll of Daly City, and Mr. Jim Robertson were all guests of the office.

On Lincoln's Birthday I introduced a bill to make February 12th a national holiday. It was the first bill introduced on the subject, and I will press for favorable consideration, since twenty-seven states already have passed laws making February 12th a holiday.

Rodgers had told friends earlier that he "thought she was running around with other men."

Indications that another woman might have been in the picture were made by Rodgers at a recent Millbrae Chamber of Commerce dinner, where he had commented about a woman he planned to marry.

According to his neighbors in Millbrae, he had frequently brought a woman to his apartment.

Quarreled Frequently

Friends and former business associates said she and Rodgers had quarreled frequently and violently before the separation.

A former employee of the real estate firm said he and his wife received a Christmas note from Mrs. Rodgers stating:

"I am no longer with Gold Seal or married to Mr. Rodgers. He certainly was a terrible person. . . . Rodgers cleaned me out. I lost everything I ever had. I am very bitter and very blue and down."

When we moved from the East Coast we really found out...
Gas and electricity are cheap in California

When Mr. and Mrs. Bare came West four years ago, they discovered, as so many other newcomers have, that gas and electricity cost much less here than in their former home.

Let P. G. and E.'s bargain gas and electricity do more of your work, bring you more of life's comforts. Nothing else you buy does so much—costs so little.

How P. G. and E.'s low rates save Mrs. Bare money...
In their charming San Francisco home, the Bares use these appliances for household comfort and convenience:

The Bares' P. G. and E. bill last month $15.96
In her former Eastern home the same amount of gas and electricity would cost $38.24

Let's Stop This Old Malarkey

Since time immemorial Daly City and other near-by communities have been in the county of San Mateo only by virtue of an arbitrary placement of boundaries.

As far as receiving due consideration as a part of that county, this city might as well be in Podunk, Neb.

The pot-bellied representatives of the "better" sections of the county, i. e., San Mateo, Redwood City, etc., have consistently made their own political bed and slept in it together, leaving the first district out in the cold.

With the arrival of Thomas Callan on the scene, the composure of the elite southern county rulers has been ruffled.

In the past they have raped the north end with unfair taxation, at the same time palming off a few paltry facilities to keep this end quiet.

The new supervisor is out to put the squelch on this activity, and in doing so he has already made himself a bad boy in the eyes of his brother supervisors.

Not content to sit back and take the leftovers, Callan is trying to accomplish something for this end of the county.

But his every effort has been stalemated by their political chicanery.

Take, for instance, the municipal court squabble.

Callan believes, as we also do, that one-day-a-week sessions of the court should be held in Daly City.

But the other supervisors, whose tender pride was injured because Judge Thomas Bocci held sessions here without consulting them, now remain adament against any such move.

The cost of transportation for Bocci's weekly journey here would not run more than $1.

Bocci is willing to sit here.

Yet in the face of these factors, the supervisors, who are ostensibly representatives of the people, would rather allow some 100 citizens, at an extravagant cost, to travel all the way to South San Francisco to pay their meager fines.

Callan's job is anything but an easy one. The other supervisors take the attitude, "Sit back and be nice, we'll tell you what's good for your district."

He is one against an unwavering block of four.

Callan's implacable efforts can do a lot for the northern end.

But the people who live here should educate themselves to the gross inequity that exists in this county.

Demand to know where your tax dollar is going. You'll find you're not getting your money's worth.

It's high time the pendulum swung this way, but it won't happen unless the tax-payers rise out of their lethargy and start raising merry hell with the people who are supposed to be governing this county.

Civil Defense Here Alarmingly Inadequate

"Make no mistake about it, America's civil defense is not developing fast enough to meet the threat that now faces us."

This was the statement made this week by the civil defense administration.

And with that eyebrow raising comment, we cannot help but think that it hits the nail right on the head in Daly City.

This city is without an active civil defense head, a post that is necessary for the establishment of any efficient defense organization.

There is also an alarming lack of volunteer civilian defense workers.

No less an authority than our president Dwight D. Eisenhower has said that civil defense is "sheer necessity" and must be pushed "without lag."

There's been a long lag in Daly City. How about a little pushing?

Martians In The Mind

The flying-saucer phenomenon made itself known again last week over the north coast-side skies.

Only, as usual, some crank had to spill the beans and explain that it was only a unique atmospheric condition, causing vapor trails from U. S. aircraft.

But, nevertheless, the saucers have made their mark on the American public.

Space comics, wierd science, dubious reports from "authentic" scientists, talk of galactic travel and current research on space navigable machines have the poor public in a quandry.

Their imaginations are tuned in with the awesome creatures from the nether worlds, and until they see an honest-to-goodness one, they'll go on envisioning all sorts of godawful things, just for excitement.

Until the real thing comes along, flying saucers are here for good, by popular demand.

Tournament Was Whopping Success

We believe the essence of wholesome recreational activity was to be found in the recent yo yo tournament sponsored by the recreation department.

More than 100 youngsters from the area turned out to try their hand at the seemingly inane sport of spinning a spool on a piece of string.

But, as many discovered, it takes practice and stick-to-itiveness to accomplish anything in yo yo spinning, as it does in any other type of activity.

The youngsters who lost will be out to better themselves next year.

And those who won were pretty happy over receiving the awards offered by the recreation department. At least one-tenth of the kids participating won some sort of prize, so it wasn't a winner-take-all sort of deal.

We hope that the local recreation department has as much success in all its future endeavors.

Self-Styled Censorship Is No Good

The decision of the New York judge conducting the Jelke vice trial to bar the press and the public appears to have been made with the sincere intent of preventing an overemphasis in the press of the lurid details of the affair.

There is no argument that some newspapers go to extremes on such things. But when a judge sets himself up as a censor he also sets a dangerous precedent. Other magistrates in the future might point to this ruling as an excuse for closing the courts but with less sincere motives.

The courts belong to the people and as such they should be open to the people. It is unfortunate that vice is played up so much in the press but that in itself reflects to a substantial degree what the public, or a considerable part of it, wants to read.

This is not intended as a defense of sensational journalism. We simply wish to point out that well-intentioned preventive methods can sometimes be more dangerous than the things they are supposed to prevent.

FLORENCE VERDUCCI OF COLMA SCHOOL IS WINNER IN LINCOLN ESSAY CONTEST

In 1933 A. J. Bodien, superintendent of the Daly City water department, presented to the Jefferson elementary school district a plaque with the medal image of Abraham Lincoln on it.

The plaque became a "trophy" to the school in the district each year, whose student was selected as having written the best essay on the noted statesman and president . . . Abraham Lincoln.

Since 1933 the school of the district have consistently participated in this contest, furthering interest and knowledge for these young American's, as was Bodien's idea.

The plaque has circulated to the various schools in the district, with Jefferson's name appearing on it eleven times, Crocker's name five times, Woodrow Wilson's twice, and Colma school, which opened in 1951, winning the trophy in both 1952 and 1953. These schools have been the proud recipients of the plaque over the past twenty-year span.

Honorable mention was given to the following students as their names appear:

Rickey Dickinson, 7th grade, Colma school.

"As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master. This expresses my ideas of democracy. Whatever differs from this, to the extent of the difference is no democracy."

These memorable words were written by a man whose character has left a forceful imprint on the history of the United States, Abraham Lincoln.

He put into practice what great dreamers up to his time only thought of, a true democracy. Today we not only think and speak of it, we are living examples of the type of democracy Abraham Lincoln believed in.

It was his opinion that all men were created equal and that everyone has a right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Another difference in Lincoln that set him off from other men was his altogether different conception of the word slave. To him slaves were not only slaves to other men but slaves to tradition and old style governmental thinking.

Abraham Lincoln was one of the few presidents that really understood the needs of the people he governed. Most people think of Lincoln as a man to be put on a pedestal and idolized, but we must remember that he was a man with a man's temptations and faults, both of which he conquered for the sake of his country.

At Lincoln's untimely death the people were overwhelmed. They were also highly indignant that a man so wise, so good, so noble as he, should be hurried into eternity by the hand of a murderer. There were few in the land that did not bow down in profound grief at the event, but, as a local newspaper said at the time, "God, in His inscrutable Providence has thus visited the Nation, the future we must leave to Him."

FIRST HONORABLE MENTION

In my hand, I hold a penny; and this penny has a story. The story of the greatest American who has yet been recognized. It is the story of an eager young boy, of a strong young man, of an honest politician, of a President of the United States. Let us consider this story in these four different phases.

We are entering the first phase —an eager young boy. We see him as a young boy walking down a hot dusty road. He turns in at a house and in a brief time comes out with a book. As we follow him back to his poverty-stricken cabin, we gradually realize that he has walked miles just to borrow a book.

As the years go by, this boy grows into a strong young man. To say that he was strong is a true statement, for, as we look, we see him wrestling another young man who up to now had been the strongest young man in the country for miles around. Look! Our man has won. We follow him around and at the end of the day that he has clerked in a store, managed a mill, done other odd jobs, and in his spare time studies law.

We are now going into the third phase of his life that we have picked—an honest politician. He still studies law, but he now uses it as a profession. Let's listen to the speech he is now starting. As we listen, we notice the qualities of love, seriousness, honesty, patience and justice.

As we enter the fourth phase we see him being placed on the Republican ticket for the title of the President of the United States of America. This man proved to be the one destined to abolish slavery from the United States. Long and hard he fought through the Civil War. After the war subsided, happiness reigned only shortly. Through the years did he lose the qualities that meant so much? Did he forget justice, lose honor, or desert honesty? No!

We quietly fade away from the fourth and last phase, and we are back from our journey into the past in front of our penny again. Do you see the stories of the eager young boy, the strong young man, the honest lawyer, and of the sixteenth President of the United Sttaes? Do you see in this man the qualities of love, justice, honor, honesty, and long-endurance? If all this is seen, you can see Abraham Lincoln.

ENGINEERING ALLOY STEELS

Engineering alloy steels containing nickel are widely used both for military equipment and for numerous applications in the civilian economy. These steels for military purposes in 1952 in general required more nickel per ton than was used for civilian applications. In both fields, however, nickel has been conserved for the more critical uses. Conservation has been achieved by substitutions of steels lower in nickel, or by steels containing no nickel, depending upon the application and the conditions under which the steels are employed. In cases where such conservation procedures did not provide satisfactory alloy steel performance, governments continued to allow the use of nickel alloy steels for defense purposes.

Wars in which the United States has been engaged from the revolutionary war of 1776-83 through World War II, have cost American taxpayers an estimated $412,743,561,855.

In The Past

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Thursday, Feb. 18—Nine young men from Daly City and Colma, with 36 other draftees from Daly City draft board No. 103, left Monday for the Monterey presidio and duty with the United States Army, while two other local selectees in the same induction group were ordered to Marine Corps and Navy duty.

The army draftees were: Orlando Manuel Poletti, Colma; Charles Phillip Brush, 543 San Diego avenue; Paul Anthony Gardella, 98 Crocker avenue; Jonathan Handy Cosbie Jr., 510 Bellevue avenue; Charles Michael Allen, 66 Parkview avenue; Ben Leveroni, Colma; Albert John Andreveno, Colman; Bruce McLean Davis, 454 Winchester street; and George Eugene Wallace, 683 Templeton avenue.

Accepted for the Marine corps was Tom Doyle, 1076 Brunswick street, while Thomas Rancatore, 99 Evergreen avenue, was selected by the navy.

With hundreds of thousands of federal government checks now in circulation, Police Chief James G. Reardon, cooperating with the Secret Service bureau of the Treasury department, today warned Daly City merchants to insist on positive identification before cashing checks.

These instructions of warning are part of an extensive campaign by the Secret Service to combat the activities of check thieves and forgers.

With their new obstacle course as the subject, Jefferson union high school and Principal James Ferguson were once again highly praised in the Sunday sports pages of the San Francisco Chronicle for maintaining their record as the perfect example of an ideal athletic plant.

George F. Lineer, Chronicle writer who hailed Jefferson's plant as the best he had seen in any high school when he covered a swimming meet here several months ago, had more praise for the high school's new obstacle course.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Feb. 18—Traffic on all highways and roads of San Mateo county was virtually held at a standstill Sunday night as a cloudburst flooded highways and streets several inches in depth in places. The torrent of rain blurred the vision of drivers, making travel almost impossible.

The Junipero Serra cutoff near Daly City was practically covered with slides.

At a regular meeting of the city council a "motion to authorize the chairman of the library committee to engage an architect to draw up plans for enlargement of the Daly City library" was passed by a three to two vote of the members.

Voting in favor of the improvement were Councilmen Sundermann, Twesten and Selmi.

Near Brisbane Monday of this week two women and a man were injured in a rear end collision between cars driven by William Y. Raymond, 50, Salinas, and Fred Everett, 44, Los Angeles, on Bayshore highway at tunnel hill.

Miss Marie Petersen, 36, Alameda, was badly cut on the face, suffered a fractured nose and it was feared she would lose the sight of her right eye.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE RECORD

Friday, Feb. 17 — The Veteran Firemen's association of Daly City celebrated their second successful year with the annual banquet, which was held in the Eagles hall on the evening of February 11. At the door of the banquet hall the invitations were taken up by the marshal, and each member and invited guest received a badge and ring. About eighty men were seated at long tables, which were nicely decorated with heather and flowers.

Miss Mildred Grandona was hostess at a dinner party last Sunday at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Grandona, of 500 Templeton avenue, in honor of Miss Josephine Bianchi, who is to become the bride of Attilio Scramola on next Tuesday evening. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Cerquentini, Mr. and Mrs. R. Grandona, Miss Mary Nolan, Miss Corine Bianchi, Miss Josephine Bianchi, William Gregoire, Attilio Scramola and Gus Bianchi.

Mrs. George Lagomarsino entertained a number of friends and relatives at dinner at her home last Friday evening, the occasion being the birthday of her husband, George Lagomarsino.

AROUND THE AREA

Another Stickup

Loot amounting to $600, conveniently packaged, was taken from a Redwood City tavern Saturday morning in another of the continuing series of armed robberies that have plagued that city in the last six weeks.

Two bandits, in one of the shortest stickups on record, robbed Andy Lynn, 27, co-proprietor of Andy and Bill's Place, 1640 Main street, as he opened the place for the day.

Lynn said he had unlocked the door, entered the tavern, switched on the lights and laying down the sack of money he just brought from the bank when the two bandits entered.

Lynn gave up the bag without argument and then heard the bandit say, "Lie down, and nobody'll get hurt!"

The entire holdup did not take longer than two minutes, he said.

Fireman To Rescue

John Stephens, 38-year-old San Francisco fireman, proved a hero Friday when he answered cries for help coming from the eight-foot deep Redwood creek, leaped into the dark water and rescued James Barbier, 2½, of Palo Alto.

The fireman, who had been helping a friend wreck a small building at the rear of the Peterson hotel, near the banks of the creek in Redwood City, said he heard cries of "baby, baby" by James' older brother, John Barbier Jr.

Stephens ran the 75 yards to the creek, jumped in and brought the boy safely to shore. The infant revived after two minutes of artificial respiration.

Hit-Run Hot-Rod

A 31-year old expectant mother was hurled to the pavement of Coast highway at 3:15 a.m. Saturday morning when the car driven by her husband, Warren Hickenbottom, 35, collided with a hot rod.

Mrs. Mabel Hickenbottom suffered numerous injuries after the fall.

Her husband said he and his wife were returning homeward from San Francisco when they were approached by a north-bound car that was swerving crazily on the highway at high speed. As the two cars drew near each other, the approaching auto smashed into the bank, caromed off and struck Hickenbottom's car in the left front, throwing his wife out.

Suicide Thwarted

A 73-year-old Burlingame plumbing executive was reported in fair condition at Twin Peaks sanitarium in Belmont following what police reported as a suicide attempt Monday at his Bromfield road home in Hillsborough.

Lauder slashed his wrist and legs in numerous places, and wounds required 150 stitches at Mills hospital.

Lauder, who has been under heavy opiates following major surgery last August, was reported to have been feeling despondent.

MY MAD WORLD

by Leonore Brewer

This week's column will reveal such epic news that I must request the patience of those readers who have been kind enough to follow me in the past. Let me bring the others up to date, that the great news may strike all ears with the impact of the opening chords of Forza.

New Year's resolutions have long since become lost amidst the debris of forgotten things that clutter our past. The shattered remains have been swept out the door, or the fleshless skeleton has joined its predecessors in the cupboard. True, perhaps, for some, but gaze upon one who has retained the New Year's resolution in its pristine purity.

And with what weapon did I meet the temptations of '53? Cease buying records until furniture filled the void labeled "dining room" on the builder's plans. In the past intimate friends dined in the living room, around the fire. Thus the dining room lived a peculiar half-life, rising to complete existence only when the presence of the occasional visitor demanded a trifle more formality.

Thus we lived, braving the eyebrows raised at the necessity of sitting on the floor to eat out of paper plates with fingers, and disillusioned by the importance some place on a few pieces of wood knocked together. Aware that somewhere in the future the furniture awaited our coming, month by month we postponed the day, lured by the joys of a new recording.

The final blow came after our purchase of Il Trovatore, a recording without peer. Alas, it was without value to an earless clod, who, in a dreadful moment of forgetfulness, absentmindedly placed his plate of spaghetti on the nonexistent table. In that moment of tomb-like silence our wavering resolution crystalized—there could be no more records until the dining room had its furniture.

So, rejoice with me! The table and chairs were welcomed into the family last Saturday. The penny-pinching attitude of the store, with their unreasonable stand on prompt furniture payments, may still curtail future additions to the record shelf, but the moral way has been cleared.

What happened to the unfortunate soul who misplaced his plate of spaghetti? He never came back. Frankly, we don't miss him. He didn't like Verdi, anyway.

COUNCIL GETS PROGRESS REPORT ON LIGHTING

This week the Daly City council received a progress report on the installation of new street lighting from the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. as ordered by the council.

Most recently completed were new facilities on the following streets: School street, Citrus avenue, South Park avenue, North Park avenue, Vista Grande avenue, Santa Barbara avenue, Miriam street, and portions of Junipero Serra boulevard.

The Crocker tract, which covers everything east of Mission street from the top of the hill to the San Francisco county line, was completed the first of the year.

When this lighting is completely installed, at a cost of over $50,000.00, Daly City will be one of the best lighted cities in California, the PG&E said.

BEANS AS BALLOTS

Grains of corn or beans were used as ballots in electing governors at Santa Clara Pueblo in New Mexico in territorial days, according to the National Automobile Club.

The first settlement in San Francisco, founded September 17, 1776, was the Presidio.

Church News

Groundbreaking At Church This Sunday

Sunday is a much anticipated day at the Lutheran Church of Our Savior, Junipero Serra boulevard and Garfield.

At the conclusion of the 11 a.m. worship service on that day, a ground breaking ceremony for the addition to the present church building will be held. This addition is to be an educational unit.

Rev. Robt. G. Konzelman

It has been greatly needed because of the large and continuously growing Sunday School. The Parish Hall was erected in 1945 but due to lack of space Sunday School classes have also been held at the parsonage for the past two years.

Work on the new building will begin immediately and it is hoped that the building will be ready for use on the first Sunday in October. A large portion of the labor will be furnished by members and friends of the church.

Junior and Senior Choirs will sing at the service Sunday and special note of the groundbreaking will be made in the sermon by the pastor, the Rev. Robert G. Konzelman. Members of the Church Council and Building Committee will take part in the groundbreaking ceremony. The Building Committee consists of Messrs. Steve Gaal, Cliff Pearson, Hermie Muser, Clarence Brog, Enfrid Benson, Al Banks, John Rix, Arnold Edinger, Wm. Cone and the Pastor. Members of the Church Council are Messrs. Enfrid Benson, John Mallick, Steve Gaal, Everett Pimentel, James Carlisle, Helmut Golitz, Cliff Pearson, Quentin Nelson, Hermie Muser, Al Banks, Norman Hendrickson, Elmer Danielson and Steve Northrup. Mr. Hendrickson and Mr. Edinger are both residents of Daly City.

The pastor extends a warm and cordial invitation to all to attend. Further details may be had by phoning JU. 4-8501 or JU. 4-0293.

Easter Seal Drive Starts In March

The 20th annual San Mateo County Easter Seal campaign to raise funds for crippled children and adults is slated to begin March 5 and extend through Easter Sunday, April 5, according to Mrs. Richard W. Heimann, president, Crippled Children's and Adults' Society of San Mateo County.

The local society is one of 2,000 chapters of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults participating in the campaign which embraces all 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, according to Mrs. Heimann.

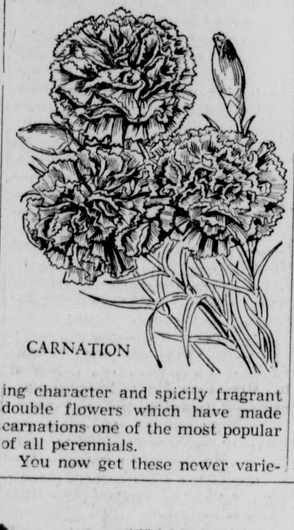
In California, residents of the 45 counties served by chapters of the California Society for Crippled Children and Adults will join in answering the appeals of their local societies, Mrs. Heimann added.

The state's 1952 campaign raised $627,000 to finance services such as medical care, therapy, provision of appliances, transportation to special schools and medical centers, education, social service, employment and recreation for more than 10,000 handicapped persons.

The MacKenzie river in Canada is approximately 2525 miles long.

Carnations Are Now At Prime Season

Almost any home gardener now can grow carnations fully as lovely as those the florists feature. Comparatively new hardy varieties, such as Enfant de Nice and Chabaud's Giant, have greatly reduced the amount of care needed. But they retain the almost everblooming character and spicily fragrant double flowers which have made carnations one of the most popular of all perennials.



CARNATION

You now get these newer varieties in flats, according to the Bedding Plant Advisory Board. Not only are the plant hardier but the color range also has been greatly extended. In addition to the familiar whites, pinks and red, there now are such colors as rose, lavender, yellow, orange, purple and two-tones.

Pampering no longer is needed, but a sunny location and good drainage still are essential. Space flat size plants 8" (for mass planting) to 15" apart. Plant them now, with the top of the ball roots slightly above ground level. Raise the bed if there is any question about drainage. This will prevent water from standing around the trunks and eventually causing stem rot.

When plants are 4" to 6" tall, nip off the tops to encourage the growth of more flower stalks from the base. If you wish to concentrate growth in one large, showy flower, snap off all side buds on a stem, leaving only one bud at the end.

To encourage long straight stems on individual specimen plants, tie them to chicken wire supports. Or save tying by growing them within individual chicken wire collars, which their foliage soon hides. Because carnations grow and bloom repeatedly over many months, feed them regularly with a good commercial fertilizer. You also will encourage your plants to stay bushy if, when cutting the flowers, you cut down to within 4 or 5 joints of the base of the stalk.

THREE POSSIBLE CAUSES

Pre-ignition of the gasoline charge in the cylinder is something that the motorist may find more prevalent as the compression ratio of the engine is raised, points out the National Automobile Club. Usually, one of three things is responsible for this condition that results in a dimunution of engine power. These are exceptionally hot exhaust valves, high temperature of the spark plug electrodes, or a bit of incandescent carbon on the cylinder head of the piston. Knowledge of the causes should facilitate the elimination of the trouble.

Ethel Louise Garibaldi Recites Vows With Paul Francis Meyer

Ethel Louise Garibaldi, formerly of Colma, recited the nuptial vows with Paul Francis Meyer Sunday at St. Matthew's Catholic church in Burlingame.

The bride made the trek to the altar attired in a ballerina length lace gown styled with Peter Pan collar above a sweetheart neckline.

She walked down the aisle on the arm of her step-father, George F. White of San Mateo.

Mrs. Fred Green (Joan Dorothy Garibaldi) preceeded her sister down the aisle as matron of honor in a ballerina length gown of soft blue net.

Both young people are graduates of San Mateo high school, where Paul played end on the school football team. The bride is employed by the San Francisco Bank in Burlingame.

As they left for their wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride was wearing a blue-gray suit with blue accessories. They will return to a new home in Cupertino.

The new Mrs. Meyer is the daughter of John Garibaldi of Colma. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dennis of Atherton, long-time Colma residents. Mrs. Louise Garibaldi of Colma is her paternal grandmother.

The benedict's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Meyer of San Mateo and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Santa Cruz.

War Bride Now Makes Home In Daly City

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT was the case with "Sue" and Frank Rincon. They met four and a half years ago in Japan, where they were shown here. "Sue" is now living in Daly City at 339 Willits street. She is devoting her time to learning American cooking lore and making preparations for her first child, which is to be born in July.

"Sue" Rincon In New Home For Year Now

Meet "Sue" Rincon of 339 Willits street—a button cute, rosy cheeked, shy young woman who has lived in Daly City for just one year and thousands of miles from her native Tokyo.

Sue's story as a Japanese war bride started four and a half years ago when she met and married Bakersfield born Frank Rincon, a master sergeant in the United States Army—a "love at first sight" story that has never varied in spite of many army transfers for her husband (he is presently in New Jersey on his way to service in Germany) and many adjustments for Sue.

One of those adjustments, common to many new wives, is keeping Sue (born Yasu) busy these days at the home of her very good friends the Chun-Fats and that is learning how to cook! Seems Sue's background of mathematics, including her skill with the abacus, was responsible for her having a fine job in a Tokyo bank, but didn't help much when it came to Frank's yen for home cooked foods. Mrs. Chun-Fat, of 326 Willits street, and her family of four are supplying Sue not only lots of cooking lore, but lots of love and happy family living while she awaits the birth of her first child sometime in July.

Dearest wishes of the Rincon family are: first, to have a strong, healthy baby (no preference as to sex) and second, to be re-united as soon as possible in a home of their own in Daly City! May they have the best of luck on both counts, because these are nice people and a real addition to our community!

Westlake PTA Gives Canasta Party For Television Set Fund

Amid a valentine decor of cupids, hearts and lace were seen many friends and members of the Westlake PTA at the canasta party given by the hospitality committee Wednesday evening, Feb. 11.

The party was given to raise funds toward the purchase of a television set for the school. Mrs. Edward Molkenbuhr Jr., chairman, and her hard working committee are to be complimented on the evening of fun and good fellowship which was enjoyed by the many present.

Mrs. Molkenbuhr wishes to especially thank all those who contributed so generously to the television fund.

Among the many prize winners for the evening were Mrs. Nancy Olson, Mrs. Dalma Sebastiani, Mrs. Lee Anderson and Mrs. Joseph Futernich. The prizes were contributed by friends of Westlake PTA.

The next meeting of the PTA will be held Thursday evening, March 5, at 8 p.m. in the kindergarten room of the school.

This will be a most interesting meeting. The recommendations of the nominating committee will be read and election of officers will follow. The third grade children will present a program appropriate to the season under the direction of Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Allen.

Lt. Paul Jensen, chief inspector, dept. of vice, county sheriff's office, will be the guest speaker for the evening. He will talk on narcotics, a subject of vital interest to all parents.

Following the meeting, refreshments will be served courtesy of the third grade mothers.

There will be a meeting of the executive board at the home of Mrs. Harold Epstein, 8 Sheffield drive, Thursday evening, Feb. 26, at 8 p.m.

Organized Efforts Stop Communism, Speaker Tells Group

"Organized efforts of good Americans are needed to combat the tightly organized and disciplined activities of the Communist party," Mrs. Margaret Rector, Americanism chairman of Daly City unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, told a meeting of the Unit at the Legion Hall recently.

She urged that everyone affiliate with some organization which is actively upholding the principles of Americanis in order that they can make their individual efforts count in the fight against communism, and he pointed out the opportunities for effective service open to eligible women in the American Legion Auxiliary.

"The infiltration, subversion and espionage which the Communists have been able to accomplish in the United States is the result of the organized and disciplined forces they have been able to concentrate on this work," Mrs. Rector said. From Communist cells of only a few members, through city, state, regional and national groups, their organization goes right on up to the politiburo in Moscow. Against this tightly knit organization, the individual American is helpless. Only by joining a soundly American organization can he hope to make his strength felt in defense of American ideals and freedom.

"Our American Legion Auxiliary is constantly carrying out a constructive program of Americanism activities, which we believe is helping build a wall against Communist infiltration into the life stream of our nation. We need the interest and aid of more women of war service families in this work. The year ahead may be a critical one in the world-wide conflict between Americanism and communism. Wive, mothers, sisters and daughters of those who served America in the two World Wars and the Korean War will find a place for service to country awaiting them in the American Legion Auxiliary." she said.

Many Officers Are Present At Meet Of James L. Snell PTA

Founders day meeting of the James L. Snell PTA was held Wednesday, Feb. 11, at the community center on White street, with many charter officers, chairmen and members present. Reminiscing among the charter members was enhanced by Mrs. Paul Talbot's reading of the unit's first year history.

Awarded to Mrs. Hugh Falconer, the unit's first president, was the honorary life membership, presented by Mrs. George Irvine, chairman of the life membership committee. Mrs. Falconer, who worked untiringly in organizing the unit in 1949, was also instrumental in bringing to life the present co-ordinating committee, which is a representative body of all the units in the area.

Special guests of the unit were Mr. and Mrs. James Snell, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Falconer, Mrs. H. P. Eader, Mrs. J. L. Whetsel and Mrs. J. B. Mills. The group was honored also to hear from Mr. Hanson, of the Daly City fire department, who spoke of the fire department's work on the Heart Fund.

Sharing honors for the traditional candle lighting ceremony, were Mrs. Falconer and Mrs. John Hess, who presented a charming ritual.

An appropriately decorated cake and sandwiches and coffee were served by the room mothers for the evening, who included Mesdames Fred Stuckey, Ray Lagon, Robert Mize, Wayne Nisson, Everett Heick and Clarence Lair.

RECREATION FOR SERVICEMEN MAY BE OFFERED HERE

Discussion of a possible program to provide recreational activity to the servicemen of Battery A., Battalion 9, located in Daly City, was held by the recreation commission at a special meting Wednesday night.

Lynn S. Rodney, district representative of the national recreation association, was present to explain the needs of the service personnel and point out what could be done in the way of recreation.

The commission expressed their approval of the plan and appointed Thomas Laramie, new member of the commission, to consult with Mayor Anthony J. Gaggero on the matter.

Rodney's duties as a representative of the national group is to consult local agencies and aid in development of local recreation activities.

The program to establish cooperation between communities and adjacent service bases is sponsored by the AWVS, the Red Cross, and the national recreation association, Rodney said.

Name Donald Grant Chest President

Donald K. Grant, 241 W. Poplar, San Mateo, was elected president of the Community Chest of San Mateo county at the annual meeting held last night at the Peninsula YMCA in San Mateo.

Grand served as a vice president last year and succeeds Glen O. Smallcomb. He has been active in civic affairs since 1941 when he moved here from Portland, Oregon, where he was a practicing attorney. He is a trustee of the San Mateo Union high school district, a trustee of Willamette university in Salem, Oregon, and a member of the national council of the YMCA, and a director of both the San Francisco and Peninsula YMCA in San Mateo.

A graduate of Willamette university and of Harvard Law school, Mr. Grant is secretary of the Guy F. Atkinson company in South San Francisco and Manager of its contracts and labor relations departments.

Other officers elected to serve with Grant are Mrs. Louis B. Lundborg, Eugene A. Mignacco and Carl E. Ward, who will be vice presidents, and Roswell J. Caulk, secretary. The office of treasurer will be announced later.

USE HORN SPARINGLY

Use your automobile horn sparingly, advises the National Automobile Club. To roll down the street blowing your horn at anything and everything that comes near you is just bad driving manners. In most cases the judicious use of steering wheel, accelerator, or brake pedal will serve you better.

"Strange" Objects Are Seen Over The North Coastal Area

For a while last week it appeared the "flying saucers" had made a "return trip" to Daly City.

On Friday the sheriff's office in Redwood City and the local police station were besieged with phone calls telling of mysterious flying rockets or strange objects which were hovering in the sky.

Mrs. Madeline Nickerson, 543 Esplanade, Pacific Manor, called the sheriff's office at 5:55 p.m. to report a "strange," large object, resembling a meteor," was hovering back and forth over her home.

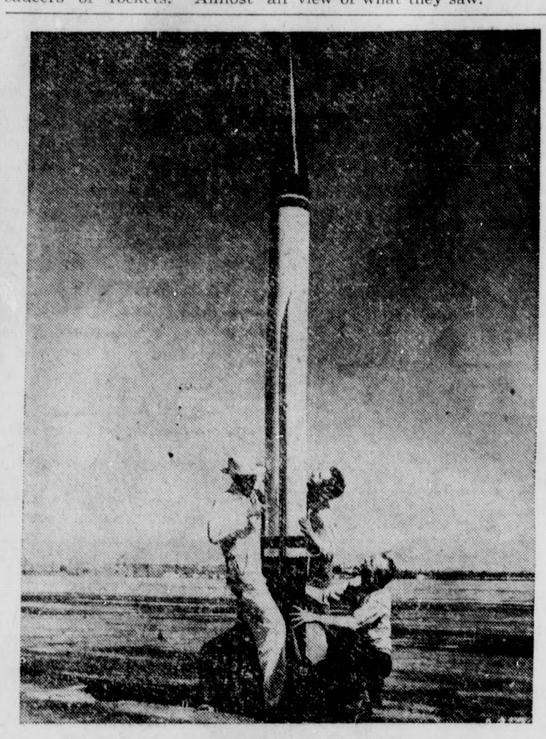
She described the object as pale pink in color and said it seemed to glow brightly. It was so bright that when it went behind a cloud she could still see it moving slowly back and forth, she said. She watched it for a total of 12 minutes.

Here in Daly City the objects were described as either flying saucers or rockets. Almost all those calling said the objects trailed long tails of blue flames behind them.

But officials at the Coast Guard rescue station at Mills Field, alerted by the sheriff's office, had a less exciting explanation for the aerial phenomena.

Both planes from the Fourth Interceptor command at Hamilton field and jets making radar runs from the Alameda navy base were in the air at the time, they explained. Several B-36s were also flying off and over the coast, and apparently, what residents saw was vapor trails from these planes flying at high altitudes.

According to authorities, an unusual weather condition frequent over desert areas but rare in the vicinity of the coast apparently allowed light to be reflected down from vapor trails giving people an unusual and frequently distorted view of what they saw.



ALL-AMERICAN ROCKET—THE WAC CORPORAL—is smaller than the 14-15 ton German V-2. Developed in 1945, the experimental, liquid-fuel, high altitude rocket weighs 655 pounds with a full fuel load and attains a top speed of approximately 2,800 miles an hour.

Colma Team Upsets Brisbane In Rec Play

The Colma A league entry in the recreation department basketball league upset the Brisbane entry, 19-14, in a thrilling game that kept the young fans on their toes throughout four close quarters.

George Rocci, Randy Hernlund and Bob Brandt each scored 6 points to contribute to Colma's team victory.

This was the first league loss for the Brisbane boys, who had previously defeated Colma, 40-10.

Defense was the secret of success for the Colma boys. They fought for the ball every time Brisbane came down court. They limited the Brisbane boys to very few shots and rebounds.

Bayshore's 46-20 win over OLPH puts them in a tie for second place with Colma. OLPH is now in the cellar with a 1-3 record.

The Brisbane Bs continued their winning ways by defeating the Colma Bs 36-12. Ray Wallace led the scoring parade with 12 points.

The Colma Bs now own the cellar title and Brisbane leads the league with a 4-0 record.

OLPH took a close one from the tiny Bayshore Bs, 15-13. The game was close from start to finish and was not decided until the final seconds by a Joe Murphy layup. Murphy led the scorers with 9 points.

OLPH is now in second place and Bayshore in third.

JEFF PANTHER WIN ASSURES TIE FOR FIRST

Jefferson high gained at least a tie for the league title last Friday night by defeating Burlingame high, 64 to 51.

Leading the way were the ever-consistent point-makers Don Delbon, Larry Blanchard and Wayne Lovelace. Blanchard netted 20 points, while the other two scored 16 apiece.

The win was the eighth straight for the Jeffs.

In the lightweight contest, Burlingame came from behind in the third period to defeat the Indians, 39 to 36.

Daly City To Receive $46,120 In Tax Funds

Daly City will receive $46,120 in gasoline tax funds from the state this year.

E. W. Booker of the state highway department, in a breakdown issued this week, said that Daly City would receive that sum out of the total of $580,940 to go to the county of San Mateo.

The city of San Mateo will receive the largest amount, estimated at $125,340.

Colma will be granted $870 of the state gas tax money.

According to Booker, 40 per cent of the money may be expended for maintenance of present city streets and the remaining amount may be used for new street work.

Other cities will receive the following estimated amounts:

Atherton, $10,910; Belmont, $16,700; Hillsborough, $10,660; Menlo Park, $53,750; Millbrae, $26,920; San Bruno, $44,620; San Carlos, $43,110, and South San Francisco, $65,270.

The paint industry is the second largest consumer of ground mica.

During his second term as president, Cleveland vetoed a total of 163 bills.

The projector of the Morrison Planetarium in San Francisco was designed and built in the California Academy of Sciences.

Eyes Can't Focus At High Speeds

SACRAMENTO — Drivers who survive a high-speed collision with another vehicle and then say "I didn't see it" can in many cases blame their lack of perception on their high speed, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Officials pointed out that eyes normally tend to focus on stationary objects. Thus, in a fast moving car a driver's eyes will focus on the roadway ahead at the point where it seems to stand still.

Studies by research groups show that at 60 mph this distance is about 1800 feet, said the Patrol. At higher speeds, eyes will focus on the horizon. The result is that objects between the driver and the focal point, especially those in the near foreground, often appear blurred and indistinct.

Side vision is also affected by speed, the Patrol added: Motionless, a normal pair of eyes can take in about 200 degrees when focused straight ahead. At 20 mph, this is cut in half; at 40 mph it's down to one-third and at 60 it's only one fifth or about 40 degrees.

Restricted side vision was listed as a possible cause of many intersectional collisions where one or both drivers claim the other vehicle "appeared out of nowhere."

The Patrol suggested to motorists that the best protection against the tricks nature plays on them is to be aware of their limitations and compensate for them.

"Driving at lower speeds and flicking your eyes from one side of the road to the other are two excellent ways to compensate," the Patrol concluded.

HILLTOP CABBIES STILL LEAD IN BOWLING LEAGUE

Hilltop Cab retained its lead in the Daly City-Colma bowling league this week with two wins, but Central Club moved one game closer with a three-win effort.

The Daly City-Colma Lions took over undisputed third place spot as they took three straight from Vince and Fred's, who were in third.

The Lions' wins were fashioned with only a four-man team.

Lion Lloyd Selmi, who has a 153 average, paced his team with a 620 series.

High series and game for the evening were rolled by Phil DeVita of Homes by Sterling, who hit 647, having games of 205, 208 and 234, the latter of which was best for the night.

High team series was racked up by Fuller Paints, who had 2694.

Hilltop Cab claimed high team game with 930.

PUSH SEARCH FOR NICKEL

Throughout the world the search for new deposits of nickel is being pushed at an unprecedented rate. This exploration work, both time-consuming and costly, is being carried on by interests new to the industry as well as by the established producers. In Canada, particularly, the wave of prospecting which is opening up new areas is attracting considerable attention to the country's untapped mineral resources. Most of this work is being financed by private capital, but some of it is being done with the financial assistance of the United States and other governments.

BALANCING FUEL RATION

Car owners might well take a tip from the engineer in his design of the later cars, according to the National Automobile Club. The greatest effort has gone into seeing that the engine gets a carefully balanced ration of fuel at all speeds. The fine balance originally attained, however, cannot be retained unless attention is paid to the cleanliness, tightness, and proper adjustment of the entire fuel system.

WHEN A TIRE BLOWS OUT

When a tire blows out, advises the National Automobile Club, you should hold the steering wheel firmly, concentrate all your energies on keeping the car on a straight line down the road, let the drag of the damaged tire slow the car down, and apply your brakes only when you are sure that you have the car under complete control. By thinking of these things in an emergency you may very well save yourself from serious injury or death.

JEFF HIGH PLAY SLATED MARCH 8

"Pride and Prejudice," Jefferson High school's winter play, shows promise of being the most elaborate in many years. It will be presented in the High school auditorium on March 6 at 8:15 p.m. and is under the direction of Miss Eunice Seaton.

In the years around 1830 ladies were wearing very full skirts over four or five petticoats, and leg o'mutton sleeves with lace or muslin collars and cuffs. The popular stole of today was just as popular then and every lady carried a fan and a bottle of smelling salts in her hand bag.

The gentlemen wore cutaway coats of both lite and dark hues and trousers that were cut to strap under the instep of the foot so that they fit with never a wrinkle. The points of their collars stood stiffly up to their chins and their ties were soft and colorful tied in loose falling bows.

These will be the costumes for "Pride and Prejudice"-very colorful and very graceful.

The stage setting will also be realistic of this period—a room in the home of an upper class family in England. Graceful draperies and furniture and soft colors.

The members of the cast are working hard to acquire the graceful curtsies and bows and the "lady-like" walk of that day.

The play concerns a Mr. and Mrs. Bennet (Andy Vranich and Donna Marie Sharpe) who have three daughters, Jane (Joyce Webster), Elizabeth (Shirley Rasor), and Lydia (Cecile Stickney). Mrs. Bennet's only goal in life is to get her daughters married—happily or otherwise! She is a very flighty person so when two elegible bachelors, Mr. Darcy (Richard Urie) and Mr. Bingley (John Marshall) with his sister, (Donna Herndon) move into the community she is in ecstacies at the prospects for her daughters. Then when Mr. Collins (Don Caldeira), a minister, and Mr. Wickham (George Taylor), an army officer, appear on the scene, her joy knows no bounds. That is until Lady Lucas (Kay Wright) and her daughter, Charlotte (Sharon Jonsane) disrupt her happiness. Lady Catherine (Dunale Rockwell) interrupts the flow of events but Hill (Howard Klein) and Mrs. Lake (Janice Prudden), servants in the house, help to keep everything going smoothly.

The production staff for the play is working hard to make the play a great success — on the staff are: Jo Ann Ruocco, Deane Thomas, Irving Waldman and Gail Stahl.

More Than 2200 in San Mateo County Apply for Old-Age Insurance Benefits

Over 2200 persons in San Mateo county applied for Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits in 1952, according to Edward J. Foley, manager of the San Mateo Social Security Administration office.

As of the first of 1953 the following monthly benefits were being paid to over 7000 persons in the county:

Retired workers ..	4000	$200,000
Their wives at 65	100	29,000
Widows at 65	700	28,000
Widows under 65 ..	350	14,000
Their children	1200	40,000
Dep'n't parents at 65	25	1,100
	7275	$312,100

These figures are an increase of about 1400 since the first 1952, with benefit increases of about $100,000 per month. These are mainly due to the changes in the social security law in 1950 and in 1952, which not only increased benefit amounts, but also liberalized the requirements for eligibility.

Foley recommended that anyone now 65 who has paid in on social security, either as a worker in covered employment, or as a self-employed person, inquire at the office to be certain of his or her rights. Also widows and wives who have reached 65 should inquire to be sure that payments they may be entitled to on their husbands accounts may start on time.

SMITH ASKS APPROVAL OF QUARRY OPERATION

Hugh H. Smith Sr., former Daly City mayor and San Mateo county supervisor, has asked unofficial approval of the South San Francisco city council for a 100-acre sand quarry back of Winston Manor No. 2, to be developed into a housing subdivision at some future date.

Smith went before the county planning commission Wednesday with a request for a permit to quarry sand for paving companies in a large canyon behind the subdivision. He said the area may be developed into a subdivision after the quarrying operation has leveled it.
